November 9

Reflections Awards Night
6:30pm

This is a wonderful time of year. As we approach the holiday season my thoughts are drawn to what I am thankful for. In the school setting I am thankful that at a young age my parents and teachers took the time necessary to help me to learn to read.

November 14

School Picture Retakes

I am appreciative that I am able to work for a school district that places heavy emphasis on learning to read. I am grateful the teachers of Fox Hollow are committed to helping your kids learn to read. I appreciate the many hours that parents volunteer in the school, most often helping with reading or learning to read.

November 22-24

Thanksgiving Break

Reading is a lifelong gift that once mastered opens the world of possibilities to each who can read. During the school day each of our teachers is committed to providing a minimum of three hours a day of literacy instruction and practice. This time is valuable, but can be enhanced with extra reading outside of school time as parents read with their children each evening for 20-30 minutes.

November 29

Boundary Change Public Input Meeting
1:00-2:00pm or 5:30-6:30pm

I am thankful for the continual support of parents as we work together to achieve the goals of teaching our Fox Hollow students learn to read and grow in every possible way.

EAT OUT NIGHT

AT
Chick-fil-A

Enjoy dinner out with the family on wednesday, November 15th from 5-8pm at Chick-fil-A on 3470 N Digital Drive. PTA receives a portion of every meal purchased when you mention Fox Hollow.

Thanks to everyone who came to our zupas eat out night, we loved seeing you there!

This time of year often becomes a time of reflection and thankfulness. As we move into the holiday season the PTA board would like to express our appreciation for all those who help and volunteer in any way in the many programs and activities we have at Fox Hollow. Many hands make light work, and these programs could not run without the help of many. Thank you!
